

Business Rules:

A book is written by just one author.

Each author can write several books.

Each author will receive royalties for each book they wrote.

